Who are the instrumental teachers?

All tuition is provided by fully qualified, professional academy music staff and staff of the Staffordshire Performing Arts Service (Entrust).

How much does it cost?

There is a one-off payment of £250 for the period 5th November 2018 to 12th July 2019 inclusive. This represents excellent value for money as the Academy subsidises the total cost, and the charge to parents works out at approximately £6.36 per lesson per student. In exceptional circumstances, cost deferment may be negotiated with Mrs J Atkinson (Business Manager).

What does the £250 pay for?

1. The Academy aims to guarantee a minimum of 30 lessons during the period 5th November 2018 to 12th July 2019.
2. Opportunities to give solo and group performances.

What if the cost of tuition puts pressure on personal finances?

Alleyne's Academy is a fully inclusive academy and no student will be denied instrumental tuition on financial grounds. There will be full remission to students who are looked after children, Pupil Premium and in receipt of free school meals. In exceptional circumstances, parents may also apply to the Academy for financial assistance via the Business Manager.

Do families of GCSE or A-level students have to pay?

No. Any student learning to play one musical instrument at school, as part of a GCSE or A Level Music course, does not have to pay for this instrumental tuition.

How are payments made?

By cash or cheque payable to Alleyne's Academy as a one-off payment. Payments are made on receipt of an invoice from Alleyne's Academy. The one-off payment for the entire year is due by 26th October 2018.

If payment in full is not received by 26th October 2018 the Academy will have no alternative but to withdraw the lesson.

Are musical instruments provided?

No. Students are expected to provide their own instruments. Some instruments are available for hire from Staffordshire Performing Arts.

What is the cost of a musical instrument?

To hire an instrument for the year 2018-2019 through Staffordshire Performing Arts will cost:

- a) Strings approx. £30.00
- b) Woodwind & Brass approx. £51.00
- c) Saxophone approx. £78.00

When an instrument is returned early, no refund is available.

Looked after children, Pupil Premium and those in receipt of free school meals receive full remission of the cost of the instrument hire, where necessary.

It is preferable for a student to own their instrument. Whilst recognising that this would be impossible for many, we are able to purchase instruments through the Staffordshire County Council Instrument Purchase Plan, thus making a saving on high street prices.

Should you wish to purchase a musical instrument please contact Mrs J Atkinson (Business Manager).

You are required to pay the total cost when the instrument is ordered.

Is tuition in groups or individual?

Tuition is given in groups and every effort is made to keep these groups as small as possible.

Is attendance of lessons monitored?

Yes. Instrumental staff complete their register every week and notify the Academy of any absences. Students who miss a lesson will require a letter of explanation from parents.

Is progress monitored?

Yes, very closely. Any student who is under-achieving is reported to the music teacher and appropriate action is taken. Teachers will note the progress made from one lesson to the next and keep a log of work set for practising each week. Practice diaries are available for students to set their own targets.

An annual report is issued for each student by instrumental staff and there is a chance to meet the teacher at a Parents' Evening organised by Staffordshire Performing Arts.

What are the commitments involved?

These commitments should be considered very carefully before signing the contract.

1. There will be a commitment for lessons to be undertaken for the year 5th November 2018 to 12th July 2019. Under normal circumstances no refund will be made for lessons lost through termination of lessons at the student's request.
2. Refunds will not be made if a student fails to attend a lesson. If one of our instrumental teachers is on long term absence, another teacher is appointed to take up the post until their return.
